

By the new VOLUME of business and the CONSUMERS

ANTHONY HORDERN'S FAMOUS LOW PRICES.
LITH PAPERS.—Our Stock of Wall Papers comprises an endless variety of high-class artistic designs, including the following:—Marbled, Plain Satin Stripes, Fleured Satins, Tapestry Effects, Faint Designs, Plainings and Colours, Plain and Coloured Plainings, Plain and Coloured Fainted, Imitated, Hand and machine printed and Coloured, etc. Patterns sent Post Free and anywhere.

LITH PAPER FRIZES.—The Selection at the New York Store is the largest and most complete production of makers of repute, and are manufactured to match all Wall Papers sold by us and are sold at the lowest possible prices, and frizes, at prices according to width and length.

[illegible][illegible] is put, ready for use, and one that is inexpensive. It is made in a variety of sizes and is used in many shapes, and the large range of colours affords ample scope for decorative treatment.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	14	28 lb tin.
1/35	5/30	1/15	2/4	4/6	8/9

S/POLISTONE STOVE ENAMEL

ENAMEL STOVE PIPE ENAMEL, known as S/POLISTONE, is a special enamel for stoves, and is made in a variety of colours. It is made in a variety of sizes and is used in many shapes, and the large range of colours affords ample scope for decorative treatment.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	14	28 lb tin.
1/35	5/30	1/15	2/4	4/6	8/9

CHILDREN'S LIQUID CEMENT

CHILDREN'S LIQUID CEMENT is a special cement for use in coating for Cement, Concrete, Stucco, Brick, and Stone. It is made in a variety of sizes and is used in many shapes, and the large range of colours affords ample scope for decorative treatment.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	14	28 lb tin.
1/35	5/30	1/15	2/4	4/6	8/9

FOR OUTDOOR OR INDOORS.

CHILDREN'S LIQUID CEMENT is a special cement for use in coating for Cement, Concrete, Stucco, Brick, and Stone. It is made in a variety of sizes and is used in many shapes, and the large range of colours affords ample scope for decorative treatment.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	14	28 lb tin.
1/35	5/30	1/15	2/4	4/6	8/9

the surface texture, providing a pleasant design effect.

The following shades—Pale Cream, Mid Stone, Dark Grey, Light Stone, Light Green and Buff, are available in three different finishes:

1-gallon tin	1-gallon tin	1-gallon tin
12/6	7/6	4/6

Shade Card free on application.

MILBON'S IMPROVED FLAT FINISH,
FOR INTERIOR DECORATION.

These finishes are prepared for the special purpose of decorating all interior surfaces, viz.: walls, ceilings, doors, windows, etc., in a fine finish, and are perfect rough coat finishes, being workable on panels, compositions, etc., and also on plastered walls, wood linings, metallic ceilings or side walls, and woodwork.

This may be used as a decorative finish, giving an economical and sanitary finish for the house, and it can be applied over old wall paper from 500 to 800 square feet to a gallon under ordinary surface conditions.

Grey, Cream, Buff, Light Yellow, Chrome
Grey, Light Green, Eau-de-Nil, Dark Green,
Natural, Red, Brown
1-gallon tin, 1-gallon tin, 1-gallon tin,
12/6, 7/3, 4/-

JOHN HODGKIN AND SONS, LTD
ONLY UNIVERSAL PROVIDERS,
NEW LACE SUPERIOR,
BRICKFIELD HILL, RYDENEY.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

THEM AND EMOTION IN MUSIC.

THE ANGELUS PLAYER PIANO.
THE ANGELUS PLAYER PIANO.

is a simple device called the
the latest and best known Lever. These two are found in the "Angelus." They are the and soul, as well as all of the ment. Controlling them, they rol the music—ABOLUTELY. You pick out the melody, keep it and distinct from the bass.

timate certain passages, subdu
and give EXPRESSION to them
"Angelus" does the playing only the "WANT IT TO PLAY."
that featuring alone, it is unique.
if you come to-day or to-night to it!

CARNEGIE'S, CARNEGIE'S
CARNegie, CARNegie,
The House for GOOD Piano,
14 GEORGE STREET, just below G.P.O.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

[illegible]

OFF CLOTHING BUYERS

to Mr. BENJAMIN, of 241 Elizabeth street,
Specially Inform Ladies and Gentlemen that
I continue to give the extreme value for every
piece of LEFT-OFF CLOTHING, Old Gold, Art
Silvers, Linen, etc. etc. attended.

PHONE CITY 281.

OFF CLOTHING BUYERS

to Mrs. WOOLF, of 112, 114, and 116 Bathurst
Specially Inform Ladies and Gentlemen that
I continue to give the extreme value for every
piece of LEFT-OFF CLOTHING, Old Gold, Art
Silvers, Linen, etc. etc. attended.

PHONE CITY 281.

OFF CLOTHING BUYERS

to Mrs. WOOLF, of 112, 114, and 116 Bathurst
Specially Inform Ladies and Gentlemen that
I continue to give the extreme value for every
piece of LEFT-OFF CLOTHING, Old Gold, Art
Silvers, Linen, etc. etc. attended.

PHONE CITY 281.

[illegible]

ROCKWELL'S Chair and Saloon Mirror, in perfect condition, at $100.00. No dealers. J.T. Box 198, P.D., Warren, Michigan will sell you a new Rockwell's Furniture at half price; no dealers. J.T. Box 198, P.D., Warren, Michigan.

FREE TANKS of large capacity, for storing & distributing all kerosene.

BOX 284, G.P.

BIG SHOW.-Wanted to Purchase, about 1000 pictures suitable for index-size picture show. KAN. Hotel Arcadia.

ADDED TO Purchase, second-hand ship's equipment, 5 days must be in good order. Full particulars and price to continuation see Index to Adverts!
G. M. T., Here.

7, 1916.

[illegible]

WATERLOO.—COTTAGE

[illegible]

BONDI BEACH.
Fine Dune Flat.

[illegible]

Apply on premises
on Monday, W

[illegible]

NEUTRAL BAY, 2 miles
FLATS vacant, also

[illegible]

We request you to
for any service we re

[illegible]

A FURNISHED ROOM, at 31 Goodhope-st. H.

Supper and Attention Paid.
 FF: SINGLE ROOM FROM 10 DAILY, 10 D
 WEEKLY ROOMS and BREAKFAST 50 c. per day
 SPRINGWOOD, Blue Mountains, HOTEL CRANFILL
 Accommodation and Cuisine the Best. Terms
 $2.50 per week. Special terms prolonged stay parties specially catered for.
 J. C. FALKNER, Proprietor
 Phone, 4 Springwood.

ROUMANIA

GERMANS LEAVING.

THE WEST.

VERDUN STRUGGLE.

VON TIRPITZ RESIGNS.

The latest French communiqué says that the enemy has made no fresh attempt west of the Meuse.

It is semi-officially reported in Paris that the third phase of the Verdun struggle is beginning. The enemy's whole effort on Tuesday was directed to the section fronting Morthomme.

General Sir Douglas Haig reports many aerial combats on the British front.

Allied airmen dropped bombs on Essen (where Krupp's works are situated), damaging six sheds.

Fifty-thousand Austrians, who were intended to reinforce the Germans at Verdun, have been stopped at Innsbruck, owing to the Italian offensive.

The Russian pursuit of the Turks continues. The capture of 21 Turkish officers and 300 men is reported.

Germans and Austrians are reported to be quitting Roumania in large numbers.

A German official announcement states that the submarine campaign is now "in full swing."

Grand-Admiral von Tirpitz, German Minister for the Navy, has resigned.

RECRUITING.

DEBATE IN THE LORDS.

SPEECH BY EARL KITCHENER.

LONDON, March 15. In the House of Lords, Lord Derby said he intended to remain at the War Office as long as he could assist Earl Kitchener.

The pledge which the Government has given to the House of Commons, that it would not permit any exemption to be granted to married men, was supported by Lord Derby.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

Lord Derby stated that the Government was now reviewing the lists of exemption workers and others who had been granted exemption from military service.

VERDUN.

THIRD PHASE.

ATTACK ON MORTHOMME.

PARIS, March 16.

A communiqué has been issued as follows:—The enemy made no fresh attempt west of the Meuse. Our counter attack between Bethincourt and Cumieres resulted in the capture of a portion of a trench. We hold Bethincourt and Morthomme, the southern edge of Cumieres Wood, and Cumieres village.

A semi-official message states that the third act of the Verdun drama is beginning. The enemy's whole effort on Tuesday was directed to the section fronting Morthomme, which is the pillar of our resistance in this region.

The conquest of this strategically important position has tempted German ambition, but it will not succeed.

The latest communiqué states:—We attacked and occupied a trench south of Saint Souperet.

The bombardment on the Bethincourt-Cumieres front has appreciably slackened. No infantry action is reported. There is considerable activity in the region of Vaux and Damloup. Some grenade skirmishes were fought on the slopes east of Fort Vaux.

In the Woëvre, villages at the foot of the Meuse Heights were bombarded. North of Premont on artillery caused a strong explosion in a German battery.

GERMAN REPORT.

A German communiqué says:—We blew up an advanced British position at Neuve Chapelle.

Silesian troops, with a strong wing of "Crown" Wood, capturing 25 officers and 100 unarmoured soldiers. Four French attacks were unsuccessful and the French sustained very considerable losses.

YPRES TRENCHES.

RETAKEN BY BRITISH.

PARIS, March 15.

A semi-official account of the British capture of the trenches on the Ypres-Comines Canal on the 2nd inst. shows that the British did not attach importance to the loss, but they refused to ignore the methodically prepared counter attack.

They lost the captured lines under artillery fire for a fortnight, thus preventing consolidation.

Intense bombardment all day long on March 1 caused the Germans to expect immediate attack, but it was not delivered until 4.30 on the morning of the 2nd.

The British moved the trench lines under artillery fire for a fortnight, thus preventing consolidation.

Intense bombardment all day long on March 1 caused the Germans to expect immediate attack, but it was not delivered until 4.30 on the morning of the 2nd.

The British moved the trench lines under artillery fire for a fortnight, thus preventing consolidation.

Intense bombardment all day long on March 1 caused the Germans to expect immediate attack, but it was not delivered until 4.30 on the morning of the 2nd.

The British moved the trench lines under artillery fire for a fortnight, thus preventing consolidation.

Intense bombardment all day long on March 1 caused the Germans to expect immediate attack, but it was not delivered until 4.30 on the morning of the 2nd.

The British moved the trench lines under artillery fire for a fortnight, thus preventing consolidation.

Intense bombardment all day long on March 1 caused the Germans to expect immediate attack, but it was not delivered until 4.30 on the morning of the 2nd.

The British moved the trench lines under artillery fire for a fortnight, thus preventing consolidation.

Intense bombardment all day long on March 1 caused the Germans to expect immediate attack, but it was not delivered until 4.30 on the morning of the 2nd.

The British moved the trench lines under artillery fire for a fortnight, thus preventing consolidation.

Intense bombardment all day long on March 1 caused the Germans to expect immediate attack, but it was not delivered until 4.30 on the morning of the 2nd.

The British moved the trench lines under artillery fire for a fortnight, thus preventing consolidation.

Intense bombardment all day long on March 1 caused the Germans to expect immediate attack, but it was not delivered until 4.30 on the morning of the 2nd.

The British moved the trench lines under artillery fire for a fortnight, thus preventing consolidation.

Intense bombardment all day long on March 1 caused the Germans to expect immediate attack, but it was not delivered until 4.30 on the morning of the 2nd.

AIR RAID.

BY THE ALLIES.

SHEDS AT ESSEN BOMBED.

AMSTERDAM, March 16.

The "Telegraaf" reports: Allied airmen flew over Essen (where Krupp's works are situated) and Munchen-Gladbach (16 miles west of Dusseldorf). Six sheds at Essen were damaged.

The Allied airmen received gunfire at Munchen-Gladbach, where there are important iron foundries. They thereupon flew over Essen, and also dropped bombs on the railway station.

THE RUSSIANS.

FURTHER PROGRESS.

PETROGRAD, March 15.

A communiqué has been issued as follows:—In the vicinity of Pomerania railway (in the Riga region) we dispersed a large enemy convoy, and successfully bombarded the forces.

The march of the Caucasians army between Lakes Medoms and Demmen is being continued in pursuit of the Turks.

We took 21 officers and 300 men prisoners at Askani, and captured two mountain guns.

EX-WAR MINISTER'S GUILT.

The commission appointed by the Czar to inquire into the shortage of munitions in 1915 found M. Sukhomlinoff, ex-Minister for War, guilty of illegal actions.

The Czar has approved a recommendation to place M. Sukhomlinoff on trial.

ROUMANIA.

GERMANS AND AUSTRIANS QUITTING.

ROME, March 15.

Reports from Bucharest state that the Roumanian Government is requisitioning vehicles, horses, and boots. The Germans and Austrians are quitting the country en masse.

The French resistance at Ypres was celebrated by demonstrations and flag-flying.

GERMAN NAVY.

VON TIRPITZ RESIGNS.

COPIENHAGEN, March 16.

Grand-Admiral von Tirpitz, Minister of the Navy in Germany, has resigned.

Admiral von Capelle (administrative head of the Marine Department) succeeds von Tirpitz.

It is reported that the retirement was due to the German Emperor and Prince Henry of Prussia, who were dissatisfied with the fleet's inactivity. Other reports attribute the resignation to a modification of the submarine warfare.

WASHINGTON, March 16.

It is rumored here that Grand-Admiral von Tirpitz has resigned in consequence of disagreements with the German Government, chiefly the Imperial Chancellor (Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg).

SUBMARINES.

THE GERMAN CAMPAIGN.

ROME, March 16.

A German official announcement denies that the submarine campaign has been postponed.

The message adds:—"And the campaign is now in full swing."

ITALY'S HELP.

AUSTRIAN SOLDIERS CALLED BACK.

ROME, March 16.

Austrians who were about to reinforce the Germans at Verdun have been stopped at Innsbruck.

The message adds:—"And the campaign is now in full swing."

AFTER THE WAR.

BRITAIN'S TASK.

GREAT SPEECH BY MR. HUGHES.

LONDON, March 15.

There was a brilliant gathering at the dinner given by the British Imperial Council of the Chamber of Commerce in honor of Mr. W. M. Hughes (Prime Minister of Australia), the attendance being five hundred, including Mr. Fisher (High Commissioner for Australia), the Agents-General, Capt. Collins, Sir John Taborer, Sir John Cockburn, Mr. J. G. Jenkins, Mr. Arthur Stanley, M.P., and Mr. Stanley Machin. Lord Dunsborough presided.

Mr. Hughes' speech was one of the most impressive he has delivered. The British audience was taken by the vigor and earnestness of the speaker.

Several ladies in the gallery, including Mrs. Hughes, listened to the speeches with great interest. Mr. Hughes had a remarkable reception.

He delivered a carefully prepared speech, in which he outlined his views on the future of the Empire, and the need for a united front.

He was frequently applauded. He made an excellent impression.

Mr. Jenkins, in proposing the "Imperial Forces," paid a tribute to the part played by the British Government in preparing for the war.

Sir Newton Moore (Agent-General for Western Australia) responded.

Sir Alexander Firth (President of the Associated Chambers of Commerce), in thanking the "Imperial Ministry," asked the Government to hit hard in fighting and commerce.

UNSHAKABLE CONFIDENCE.

Mr. Herbert Samuel (Secretary of State for Home Affairs) said in his confidence regarding the ultimate result of the war, and felt confident that the Dominions would rally round the flag.

"We welcome Mr. Hughes with enthusiasm and gratitude," he said. "His speech at the Imperial Conference has added a new glory to the history of the British Empire."

When the war is over we shall have to face new and difficult problems. There is a widespread feeling that after the war we shall not be able to enter again into friendly relations with our enemies.

Mr. Hughes' speech was one of the most impressive he has delivered. The British audience was taken by the vigor and earnestness of the speaker.

Several ladies in the gallery, including Mrs. Hughes, listened to the speeches with great interest. Mr. Hughes had a remarkable reception.

He delivered a carefully prepared speech, in which he outlined his views on the future of the Empire, and the need for a united front.

He was frequently applauded. He made an excellent impression.

Mr. Jenkins, in proposing the "Imperial Forces," paid a tribute to the part played by the British Government in preparing for the war.

Sir Newton Moore (Agent-General for Western Australia) responded.

Sir Alexander Firth (President of the Associated Chambers of Commerce), in thanking the "Imperial Ministry," asked the Government to hit hard in fighting and commerce.

WASHINGTON, March 16.

It is rumored here that Grand-Admiral von Tirpitz has resigned in consequence of disagreements with the German Government, chiefly the Imperial Chancellor (Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg).

THE GREAT ISSUE.

Mr. Hughes, replying to the toast of his health, said: "The issue of the war is the world-power or downfall of Germany or England. The supreme issue is not national, but economic, but moral."

He decided either force or law shall rule the world. I have already shown wherein the fabric of British industry is being woven together with German enterprise.

It is no easy task to cut out a cancer to its roots, nor German trade, which is some times cloaked by the traders' chamber, their names, and their interests.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

FUTURE TRADE POLICY.

LONDON, March 15.

There was a brilliant gathering at the dinner given by the British Imperial Council of the Chamber of Commerce in honor of Mr. W. M. Hughes (Prime Minister of Australia), the attendance being five hundred, including Mr. Fisher (High Commissioner for Australia), the Agents-General, Capt. Collins, Sir John Taborer, Sir John Cockburn, Mr. J. G. Jenkins, Mr. Arthur Stanley, M.P., and Mr. Stanley Machin. Lord Dunsborough presided.

Mr. Hughes' speech was one of the most impressive he has delivered. The British audience was taken by the vigor and earnestness of the speaker.

Several ladies in the gallery, including Mrs. Hughes, listened to the speeches with great interest. Mr. Hughes had a remarkable reception.

He delivered a carefully prepared speech, in which he outlined his views on the future of the Empire, and the need for a united front.

He was frequently applauded. He made an excellent impression.

Mr. Jenkins, in proposing the "Imperial Forces," paid a tribute to the part played by the British Government in preparing for the war.

Sir Newton Moore (Agent-General for Western Australia) responded.

Sir Alexander Firth (President of the Associated Chambers of Commerce), in thanking the "Imperial Ministry," asked the Government to hit hard in fighting and commerce.

WASHINGTON, March 16.

It is rumored here that Grand-Admiral von Tirpitz has resigned in consequence of disagreements with the German Government, chiefly the Imperial Chancellor (Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg).

THE GREAT ISSUE.

Mr. Hughes, replying to the toast of his health, said: "The issue of the war is the world-power or downfall of Germany or England. The supreme issue is not national, but economic, but moral."

He decided either force or law shall rule the world. I have already shown wherein the fabric of British industry is being woven together with German enterprise.

It is no easy task to cut out a cancer to its roots, nor German trade, which is some times cloaked by the traders' chamber, their names, and their interests.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

SOLEMN LESSON.

LONDON, March 15.

Germany's post-war organization is still at a higher pitch of perfection, and again a lesson is being taught by the British Imperial Council. When Mr. Lloyd George took the British munitions in hand, we were literally crumbling on the edge of destruction. Thanks to his vigorous action, we can now breathe easier.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must build up. What will Britain's post-war trade policy be? Some think that this is not the time to raise the question, because many parties must be consulted.

Mr. Hughes said that the war was not without respecting to such measures. I do not agree with that. But we must not only destroy, we must

THREE MEN SHOT.
—
AFFRAY IN A BANK.
—
MAN RESENTS PAYMENT IN NOTES.
—
MELBOURNE, Thursday.
A sensational shooting affray occurred this afternoon at Abraj, resulting in injuries to three men, one victim, Mr. Demilly, accountant of the London Bank, having the left arm so shattered that it was subsequently amputated near the shoulder.

about 6ft. and apparently about 55 years of age.

[illegible]

Joy fired two shots, and the constable opened empty suitcase case, and when the man hurried the Oriental rumped at him, the man snarled at him with the constable stared at the fellow, and, closing in with his revolver, ultimately drove him down with the assistance of a British constable.

Graham handcuffed him, and he was helped into the back of the van charged with intent to murder.

THE ORIENTAL COMPANY.

INCREASING THE CAPITAL.

LONDON, March 15.

The Orient Steamship Navigation Company proposes to substitute 50 per cent. cumulative preference shares for the 25 per cent. non-cumulative shares now outstanding, and to increase the guaranteed 5 per cents. 25 preferred shareholders a 20 per cent. bonus in preference shares paid out of reserve, and also a 10 per cent. bonus in preferred shares to the preferred stockholders, also an

£200,000 in £10 shares, and the deferred and the capital increased to £200,000 in 21 shares.

MEXICO

AMERICAN PUNITIVE EXPEDITION.

WASHINGTON, March 11
A punitive expedition has entered Meru in pursuit of the Villa bandits, who recently raided the American town of Columbus, New Mexico, killing several of the inhabitants.

SOLDIERS AT FOOTBALL

LONDON, March 11

Officers' Training Corps by 20 to 6 in a foot-ball match at Richmond. It was one of the

[illegible]

INDEX.

NEWS.
Page.		Page.
Business	4	On the Land	1
Capitalist List	4	Fingered	1
Capitalist mortal	4	Demers on the Turf	1
Competition	4	Court-Show	1
Coburgians	4	Early Union	1
Commodore Jones	4	Public Service	1
Cannibal	4	Permit	1
Cash Vandal	10	Let Kew's	1
Crowned Jew	4	Palatine Punch	1
Fair Brests Court	4	Quakers at the Post	1
Foreign ship	4	Leaving	1
Infectious Paralysis	4	Men	1
Imperial Migration	4	Recording	1
Imperial Migration	4	Specimens	1
Imperial Migration	4	Sporting Intelligence	1
Islands	4	The Story	1
Land	4	Patric's Day	1
Land	4	War	1
Land	4	The Milla	1
Man, Hall's Will	10
Monetary and Commercial	10
Mining Intelligence	10

Military Forces	10	1150 2nd St.
Orient Company	13	Workers' Compensation
Reclamation, Irrig.		University Expts.

[illegible]

Machinery $
Medical, Chemicals,
Wanted to Purchase L.

[illegible]

100 news-page127094

nal Library of Aus

alia

<http://nla.gov.au>

nla.news-page1270944

(continued)

YACAP

[illegible]

13

[illegible]

